Roanoke Plays Colts To-Day for Last Time This Season

Stouch Picks All-Star Carolinians

Raleigh, N. C., August 29.—Tommie Stouch, manager of the Asheville club of the Carolina League, yesterday selected the players who are to form his all-star team for the post-season series with an all-star team of the Virginia League.

The players selected are: Pitchers-Lee, of Winston-Salem; Fahrer, Charlotte; McManus and Meadows, Durham. Catchers-Milliman, Asheville, and Lowe, Durham. First base-Bumb, Asheville. Second base-Cruthers, Raleigh, or O'Halloran, Winston. Third base-Neild, Raleigh, or Gates, Winston-Salem. Shortstop-Edwards, Winston-Salem, or Kelly, Durham. Left field-Thompson, Durham, or Weiser, Charlotte. Centre field-Clapp, Winston-Salem, or Rickard, Greensboro. Right field-Doak, Asheville, or Earle Mack, Raleigh.

With either set of players mentioned above and the four pitchers, Stouch expects to give the fans in Virginia the best article of Class D ballplaying seen this season.

That won't help you out much, so we will sheer off on another tack. South-ern Maid got her work for this event last Monday in the early morning, when righteous folks were dreaming. With Willie Knapp in the saddle, and Willie weighs around 130 pounds, the filly skimmed over six furlongs in 1:14 2-5. This morning Pennant was given his final prep. and he covered the six furlongs in 1:15 3-5, but with a light boy aboard. Now, there you have their starts, their final workouts, and still it is hard to bet one's railroad ticket. last Monday in the early morning, when it is hard to bet one's railroad ticket on the race. But this we wish to add: the track will be heavy to-morrow, and that is going to cut some ice. South-orn Maid is by Plaudit, and he was some mudder. Pennant is a son of Peter Pan, which was never noted for tearing through the soft and sticky. That is where we believe the hitch is. GARDED DEFEAT DEDO

Indianapolis driver traveled faster than the winner, but slow service on the part of his pitmen cost him the race.

The Italian driver took the lead in the thirteenth lap, when Wishart, also driving a Mercer, was forced to slow down as a result of a spectacular tire explosion directly in front of the grandstand. Dawson also at that time climbed into second place, while Wishart was forced to follow Dawson by seven seconds.

Wishart was a victim of misfortune. He was the first driver to experience any trouble, his Mercer throwing a tire name of game, 1:45.

Ayers to Pitch First Game

The day of rest brought about by the rain of yesterday was welcomed by the Colts. It gave everybody a by the Colis. It gave everybody a chance to rest up, and particularly the pitchers, for to-day's double-header. This is Roanoke's farewell trip. Manager Griffin will probably start Doc Ayers against Jap Efird in the first game. Harry Griffin may pitch the second. If Pressly wins the opening encounter with Efird, he will pitch Perryman in the second. If he loses. Bert Gardin will ond. If he loses, Bert Gardin will be called upon. If the Colts win both, they go back to second place.

Philadelphia, Pa., August 29.—The Phillies took the second game from the Giants to-day, 3 to 2, in ten innings. Burns's wild throw in the last inning permitted Byrne to score the winning run, after two men were out. The Phillies took a lead in the first by scoring two runs off three hits, a pass and a double steal. The Giants tied the score with one run in the fifth off a single and a double, and another in the sixth off Doolan's error, a stolen base and Fletcher's hit. Tesreau pitched faultless ball for eight innings, not allowing a hit from the first to the tenth. Byrne singled, Knabe walked and Magee fied to Burns, who threw wild to the plate. The score:
